RESUME OF CHARLES GILBERT LEATHERS

Charles Leathers was born in Tukahoma, Oklahoma, on 4 July 1940. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics, history, and education from Central State College, Oklahoma, in 1963. He entered graduate school at the University of Oklahoma in 1964, and received the Master of Arts degree in economics in 1966, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1968. His doctoral dissertation was entitled, "An Analysis of Alternative Methods of Increasing State Tax Revenue in Oklahoma."

His college level teaching experience includes graduate teaching assistant at the University of Oklahoma from 1965 to 1967; Assistant Professor of economics at West Texas State University from 1967 to 1968; and Assistant Professor of economics and Associate Professor at the University of Alabama since 1968. During the period 1972 to 1973 he served as the Acting Director of the Institute of State and Local Finance at the University of Alabama, and as Acting Chairman, Department of Economics and Finance, in the summer of 1973.

In August 1973 he joined the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California, where he is teaching in the Navy Management Systems Center.

His areas of interest are in economic theory with special emphasis on the theory of social goods and non-market systems, public finance, comparative economic systems, and economic history. He has served as an economic consultant on state and local finance for the Alabama State Legislature, and has participated in a Seminar in Comparative Regional Development for Mexican Graduate Students co-sponsored by the United States Department of State and the University of Alabama.

He is a member of the American Economic Association, the Southern Economic Association, and the History of Economics Society.
